

AOTV Annual Report

Fiscal Year 2016

Presented at Annual Meeting

Carol's Annual Reflections

I love my job. I've written many times about loving the fellowship that has developed at AOTV and the community as a whole. I love my job when I work late, because there are always volunteers right by my side. I kind of love my job when there's a lot of pressure; like when we have a million little details to organize before Auction, or when we have to scramble through bad weather conditions to set up ten locations simultaneously at River Rat Race. I love my job because I am always learning something new; like learning how to run a radio station, WVAO-lp. But I really love my job every 10 years when the capital funds come in, and we get to spend lots of money and buy new toys.

You will see throughout this report that we did a lot of upgrades in 2016. The first large expense was a Board vote to get the driveway paved. We always knew it needed it, but could never afford it. It may seem small, but we waited 21 years to get the driveway paved and have real parking spaces. As the quote says, "patience is a virtue." It has enhanced the look of the building and has a feel good quality that's immeasurable.

Even though equipment is supposed to last seven years, we were using the equipment in the studio for 20 years. It was time to change it up – drastically. After much research and many RFP's, we designed and installed a new Tricaster system in the control room. This system is state-of-the-art and has new NDI technology to bring video in from many sources without the need to convert all the variety of video formats. We purchased three new Wi-Fi field cameras for projects such as River Rat Race and Food-a-thon. To save money we converted the older field cameras to studio use.

The last large expense was studio lights. We have an entirely new studio full of LED lights and a new light board. It will save us a lot of money in energy costs over the years. The old studio fixtures in the grid were using 750-1000 watts a piece. We also had all the office building lights converted to LED through the National Grid Energy Savings program. Yes, we still have some money left, but we also have nine more years to go.

2016 was the first full year of WVAO-lp being on the air. A special thanks must go to Diana Towle as our Chief Operations Officer, Bob Schwein as our Chief Engineer, and Greg Avedissian as our Linux IT Consultant. Without them, we would not be on the air today. WVAO was created in the image of AOTV; to fulfill our mission, and also be there for local emergency situations in the community.

I do want to thank the Board and staff, especially Tina Smedley and Shane Brown, for putting up with me. Yes, there are times when I don't exhibit the virtue of patience when stressed, and they understand and forgive me.

My wish is that all people could love their job as much as I do.

- Carol Courville

MISSION STATEMENT

AOTV and its cooperative venture, WVAO-lp are non-profit access TV and radio stations that are dedicated to the community improvement and enrichment through responsible, diverse and informative programming. The organization's commitment is to involve and train people of all ages in creating programs to bring issues and happenings to the viewers and listeners of the Athol and Orange area.
